

This work honours another matriarch from Poswa's village whose name, Answari, is a derivation of the English word answer, meaning response or solution. Mama uNoAnswari is a keeper of livestock in the village, tending traditional farm animals including chickens, goats and cattle. The work's depicted load is a plate laden with carrots. Poswa has childhood memories of Mama uNoAnswari cooking carrots, pulled from the earth of the village's garden and shared with the community.
